

How I Org

Northern.tech winter summit 2018

Kristian Amlie & Nick Anderson

February 28, 2018

30k foot view

- ▶ The master of time boxing
- ▶ Prioritization maestro
- ▶ The most disciplined man in the world

Kristian

Tooling

I spend the majority of my writing time inside of org-mode. I usually export my org formatted text to html, markdown, or jira. The center of my org is refile.org. This is where my org notes started when I first started playing with orgmode about 8 years ago.

Features

Markup

- ▶ Similar to markdown
- ▶ Slightly less readable (more options)
- ▶ Fair support rendering in github/gitlab
- ▶ TROLLING The most reasonable markup language for text?

Org Markup Example

* Headings start with a star

 Subheadings start with 2 stars

Text can be bold, /italic/, ~~+struck through+~~ or =verbatim=

`#+BEGIN EXAMPLE`

Additional References

Some good resources to explore.

Literate DevOps

- ▶ <http://www.howardism.org/Technical/Emacs/literate-devops.html>
- ▶ <http://www.howardism.org/Technical/Emacs/literate-devops-examples.html>
- ▶ <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=dljNabciEGg>

Org-mode Workshop

- ▶ <https://github.com/nickanderson/org-mode-workshop>

Level up your notes with org-mode

- ▶ <https://github.com/nickanderson/Level-up-your-notes-with-Org>